INTRODUCTION

Imagine strolling into your law firm every day knowing that you can focus on the work you're best at – and enjoy the most.

No more endless emails. No more mind-numbing admin tasks. No more shrill interruptions every time the phone rings. You can really get down to business with the serious legal work that matters.

Sounds like a dream, right?

Having all that clutter removed so that you can be in your “Zone of Genius” 99% of the time is entirely possible.

It just seems so out of reach for small law firms. Whether you're a one-man attorney's office or just two or three legal experts working together, the idea of delegating admin work doesn't appear to be an option.

“We just don't have the same staffing or resources as the bigger, established legal firms.”

“There's simply too much work to do and not a big enough budget to hire more people with the right expertise.”

EMILY LARUSCH

Those are some of the typical responses I've heard over the years while working with attorneys across the U.S. as the Founder & CEO of Back Office Betties.

The problem is, they're wrong. In today's digital world, there's so much opportunity for you to outsource tasks, access expert support, grow your law firm, and get back to doing what you do best.

Best of all: you can do it for a fraction of the price by utilizing virtual legal services rather than an in-house team of employees (which in addition to being more expensive, actually comes with numerous additional downsides).

In this ebook, I'm going to explain how you can:

- Discover your true genius at work
- Get back to the work that truly lights you up
- Pass on the energy-draining tasks and have them picked up by reliable experts
- Access a team of experienced paralegals and admin assistants - without the recruitment hassle
- Run your office like a large firm - without the large financial outlay

Your time is too valuable to spend glued to the phone... feeling stressed... working nights... or missing out on valuable time with your family. I'm here to show you a better way.

You can thank me later.

DISCOVER YOUR ZONE OF GENIUS

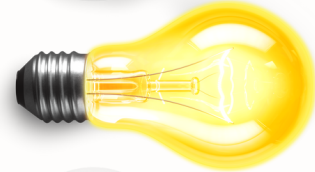

PART I: DISCOVER YOUR ZONE OF GENIUS

You've got a lot on your plate juggling the business side of running a law firm and your legal casework. You need a straightforward process to streamline your operations, boost your team's productivity, and soar to new heights of success.

And guess what? You're in luck! I'm going to share with you one of the tools I used to radically change my life and the trajectory of Back Office Betties:

The EOS® (Entrepreneurial Operating System) Delegate and Elevate Exercise

First, let me tell you how this exercise changed my life as a business owner. After completing it, I was able to clearly define what I'm great at and all the things that I needed to stop wasting my time on (even if I was good at them and enjoyed them!).

I think of this exercise as discovering your personal genius zone.

When you shift your focus solely to your genius zone, you're able to 10x your business with ease.

After finishing the EOS® Delegate and Elevate Exercise, you may find yourself feeling overwhelmed wondering how you will be able to get everything off your plate. I felt the same way! So, I started with the things I'm bad at, and over the course of one year, I worked my way through the list until I was operating in my genius zone 90% of the time.

PART I: DISCOVER YOUR ZONE OF GENIUS

The first thing I did was follow the advice of Cameron Herold, former COO of 800-GOT-JUNK who said:

“If you don’t have an assistant, you are the assistant.”

Cameron Herold, former COO of 800-GOT-JUNK

I hired one of our virtual assistants to serve as my executive assistant. I started her off very part-time managing my calendar and email. Soon, she was rescheduling my kids’ doctor appointments, ordering gifts, creating a bill-paying calendar and personal budget, and putting all my bills on an autopay schedule with due dates coinciding with my pay periods.

Needless to say, she quickly went from 20 hours a month to 20 hours a week allowing me to focus on my genius zone, helping the company grow and thrive!

Let’s dive deep into this magical exercise that will have your law firm running smoother than a well-oiled machine.

THE EOS® DELEGATE AND ELEVATE EXERCISE

This exercise is designed to help you delegate like a champ and elevate your law firm's performance to celestial heights.

1. DELEGATE LIKE A PRO:

Imagine a world where you can delegate tasks without worry, knowing that your team will handle them with finesse. If you don't have a team yet – have no fear – you are going to learn the secrets other solo attorneys used to grow their firms without investing their time and energy into recruiting and hiring full-time staff.

The EOS® Delegate and Elevate Exercise will show you how to identify your strengths and weaknesses, assess your team's abilities, and delegate tasks accordingly.

It's like assembling a crew of superheroes, each with their unique superpowers, ready to tackle any challenge that comes their way.

2. ELEVATE YOUR LAW FIRM'S PERFORMANCE:

Once you've mastered the art of delegation, it's time to elevate your law firm's performance. I'm talking about setting crystal-clear goals, creating a shared vision, and aligning your team's efforts toward a common mission. Think of it as your law firm's North Star, guiding you through the galaxy of legal challenges and opportunities.

But here's the kicker – this exercise isn't just about your law firm. It's about YOU too! It's about reclaiming your time, reducing stress, and achieving that elusive work-life balance you're dreaming of.

Let's do this! 🚀

HOW TO:

Think about all the tasks you are responsible for in your law firm. Divide them into the four quadrants on the EOS® Delegate and Elevate chart. (Use the list of common tasks on the following pages for inspiration!)

1. Things that you LOVE doing – and are GREAT at doing
2. Things that you LIKE doing – and are GOOD at doing
3. Things that you DON'T LIKE doing – but are GOOD at doing
4. Things that you DON'T LIKE doing – and are NOT GOOD at doing

PART II:

REVOLUTIONIZE YOUR LAW FIRM WITH FRACTIONAL STAFFING

PART II: REVOLUTIONIZE YOUR LAW FIRM WITH FRACTIONAL STAFFING

You're an attorney, not a recruiter.

Yet one of the biggest problems I hear from overworked attorneys is that they feel like they're constantly dealing with staffing and recruiting issues.

Their small team desperately needs paralegal and admin support. They spend a significant amount of time running ads, sifting through applications, selecting shortlisted candidates, holding job interviews, hiring their new employee, training them for the role... and then it doesn't work out.

Their new employee makes careless (and sometimes costly) mistakes or decides it's not for them – and runs to another role.

Then it's back to square one. Back to being a recruiter and taking time away from important legal work.

Surely there's a better way?

I'll let you in on a secret.

You're an attorney, not a recruiter.

PART II: REVOLUTIONIZE YOUR LAW FIRM WITH FRACTIONAL STAFFING

THE GAME-CHANGER: FRACTIONAL STAFFING

You don't have to fly solo. You can take advantage of automation, new systems and processes, and (most importantly) fractional staffing – meaning someone who works within your company on a freelance basis. Ultimately, a solo attorney can afford a full suite of services.

I know this because it is exactly what my company specializes in. Back Office Betties is one of the country's leading virtual legal support services. As you continue through this guide, you'll discover how utilizing fractional staffing can completely transform your law firm.

Just imagine being able to operate like a large law firm – but on a micro-budget.

It's possible when you bring fractional staff on board.

PART II: REVOLUTIONIZE YOUR LAW FIRM WITH FRACTIONAL STAFFING

THE BENEFITS OF FRACTIONAL STAFFING

- ✓ Reduced overhead: Considerably cheaper than hiring either full-time or part-time team members, with no holiday or sick pay to cover either.
- ✓ Improved morale: Delegate the tasks that drain your energy and focus on the work you enjoy.
- ✓ Increased flexibility: You pay for the time you need instead of trying to fill up the time you're paying for.
- ✓ Smaller commitment: Purchase a set number of hours on a monthly basis with no long-term contracts.
- ✓ Growth opportunities: Gives your law firm the ability to attract and serve more clients.
- ✓ Smoother operations: Implement efficient systems with specialized team members.

PART II: REVOLUTIONIZE YOUR LAW FIRM WITH FRACTIONAL STAFFING

NO MORE TRAINING & MANAGEMENT HEADACHES

One of the most time-consuming parts of welcoming a new face to your team is the training they require. Whether it's family law, estate planning, social security/disability, real estate, or business, employee training is crucial to get it right for your clients and avoid costly mistakes.

This is where fractional staffing providers, like Back Office Betties, can ease this headache for you. Our team members are already knowledgeable about the systems, processes, and demands of law firms. And we'll match you with someone who has experience in your field of law, with your practice management software, and the work you need to be done.

Even if you need a replacement, we have a perfect fit guarantee and will happily match you with someone new.

FRACTIONAL EXECUTIVES

Back Office Betties provides first-class virtual legal assistant and receptionist services – however, the world of virtual legal services has expanded to the point where your law firm can even access fractional executives.

Yes, I'm talking about high-end professionals with experience as a CEO, CMO, COO, or CFO.

PART II: REVOLUTIONIZE YOUR LAW FIRM WITH FRACTIONAL STAFFING

You may have thought that hiring C-Suite executives was out of the question due to budget constraints. But this new fractional resource model that's emerging makes these highly skilled individuals accessible to your business – on a part-time or even advisory basis.

This new fractional resource model that's emerging makes highly skilled individuals accessible to your business.

Here are just some examples of these fractional executives who work exclusively with law firms:

PART II: REVOLUTIONIZE YOUR LAW FIRM WITH FRACTIONAL STAFFING

JESSICA GONIFAS

CPA, CFO, AND ACCOUNTING

Jessica's fractional resourcing company, Silver Peaks Accounting Services, offers a range of personalized financial planning services for law firms. However, she also works in an advisory capacity.

"Partnering with us is like having an advisor and outsourced CFO," she said.

In a recent blog article about attorney offices struggling to manage their accounting, she wrote, "If you're a law firm owner, your focus is on providing great legal services to your clients."

"After years of working with folks just like you, I have seen how much stress not understanding your finances can cause you."

"Some of you tell me when you try to understand your numbers, you get lost and end up making decisions based on incomplete, inaccurate, or outdated data."

Jessica shares some tips that we also provide visitors to the blog on our website, such as using cloud software and outsourcing the tasks that are causing you real problems.

"Running a law firm is complex!" wrote Jessica, "But by following these tips and keeping a close eye on your finances, you can make informed decisions that help you grow your business."

"Using cloud accounting software, tracking your expenses accurately, using data visualization tools, keeping an eye on KPIs, and working with a financial professional are all things you can do to quickly gain clarity about your business finances."

ROSLYN DROTAR-CASSIDY

CMO

Roslyn is the type of marketing expert every attorney would want on their team. She boldly describes herself as, 'Your Law Firm Fractional CMO' on her company's website, Digital Social Strategist.

Roslyn says, "Wearing all of the hats in the day-to-day of a law firm all day, every day, is NOT something you have to do – or should be doing."

"We offer a partnership for you and your team to progress as the law firm marketing leader in the practice."

"This process includes consulting, knowing when it's time to grow a campaign, pause a campaign, and knowing with complete certainty your accurate numbers and KPIs."

"We offer a way of you managing these areas that might be currently holding you back from achieving marketing momentum and growth."

Marketing their services and expanding their reach is an area where most law firms struggle.

In addition to her fractional CMO offering, Roslyn's company also offers a marketing program, as well as expert social media management services.

MELISSA SHANAHAN

CEO STRATEGY SUPPORT

Melissa is a legal expert, owner of Velocity Work, and host of The Law Firm Podcast. She works with CEOs to help them clarify their vision and create a plan to help them implement it effectively. She then helps build out accountability with law firms to ensure that their plan is properly rolled out.

Each week on her podcast, Melissa guides her attorney listeners to organize their numbers, grow their teams, increase their revenue...and take real time off. Now, the latter sounds good, doesn't it?

Melissa's approach not only shows law firm owners how to create sustainable success in their firms, but in their personal lives too by achieving a healthy work-life balance – which eludes too many attorneys.

She does this primarily through an online program and community called 'Mastery Group', which also facilitates quarterly law firm planning retreats with coaching and planning in between.

In a recent podcast episode, Melissa interviewed Gordon VanderLeek, founder and managing lawyer of VanderLeek Law. His firm is focused on estate planning, estate administration, and trust planning and has a growing focus and specialization in planning for families with children with long-term disabilities. Having paid for Melissa's services and joined her online legal community, he learned about the huge impact that hiring outside support can have on the growth of your law firm.

Gordon, who went on to hit his best year in 2022 in terms of revenue, said, "If you need support, get that in place when times are good because, when times are not so good, you need a community."

JAMIE MUNOZ

FRACTIONAL INTEGRATOR, COO

Jamie is a fractional Integrator, a COO, second in command, and right-hand to the business owner or "Visionary". These terms come from EOS®, The Entrepreneurial Operating System (based on the book Traction by Gino Wickman). Her company Catalyst Integrators supports clients of all sizes with an experienced fractional Integrator.

As you can imagine, the size of that seat could vary based on industry, company size, growth trajectory, etc. Not every company needs a full-time Integrator at all stages... enter fractional Integrator.

Fractional = part-time. Acting like a bridge to help you strategize, grow, dial in operations, act as a thought partner, and figure out your people strategy overall! Hiring any fractional executive implies that they have owned the seat successfully in a full-time capacity during their career. They are able to come in and get more done in less time, under little supervision, provide valuable experience, and help you get a bit further, faster.

With the foundational understanding of what a fractional Integrator encompasses, it is now pertinent to gain insights; here are some words from Kristyn from the Catalyst Integrators® team on being a fractional Integrator for some of the Law Firm clients Catalyst serves...

"Let's take a closer look at things, focusing mainly on the people and processes involved. We know that most problems in any business tend to come down to either the people or the processes, right? Well, let's dive in, starting with the PEOPLE side of things."

This makes it difficult sometimes to make progress because you often are working with a Visionary owner who has also been sitting in the Integrator (COO) seat, who is ALSO then sitting in multiple seats on the accountability chart like:

PART II: REVOLUTIONIZE YOUR LAW FIRM WITH FRACTIONAL STAFFING

- Manage legal production, often playing a role as a member of the legal production team and carrying some billable responsibilities. Also managing a marketing vendor or multiple marketing vendor relationships.
- Sales and Marketing seat, where they are managing maybe one or two sales type people, usually intake and then some other non-attorney salesperson.
- Finance seat managing an accounting vendor and internal bookkeeper who manages the day-to-day ins and outs, and possibly a fractional CFO of some kind to support strategy.
- Being a lawyer also!

Phew – that’s a lot of seats!

Typically, the first chip to fall, the first position to fill on that accountability chart is that person sitting in the operations seat as priority. That’s often what they naturally wish to get off their plates first because that includes those not only the client service delivery experience, but they often also have employee relations type things that get blended into that. So who can elevate into that seat? Well, it varies.

Some of Jamie’s clients like to look outside of the business and fill with a full-time integrator who will sit in both seats. Some of them look internally to someone who is really incredible and operationally minded like a process-oriented paralegal who is now elevating into the Integrator seat and Jamie can coach and mentor them.

Let’s now focus on the topic of PROCESS.

Process is so critical with the structure of the business because we’re dealing with billable resource people, so they need to be given high-quality processes for them to execute said billable work in this case let’s talk legal production and case management.

A top-notch billing process and an efficient method for tracking hours are essential. The right person to step in and provide support, such as Back Office Betties and other vendors, can significantly ease the burden. They can assist in handling certain processes, allowing billable resources to focus on revenue generation, without overwhelming the business with excessive overhead in foundational non-billable roles.

Harnessing the power of a simple system like EOS®, The Entrepreneurial Operating System (based on the book Traction by Gino Wickman), works for law firms as an industry-agnostic system that you can build upon.

Catalyst fractional Integrators assist their clients to align and streamline vision, strategy, people, processes, and data to create clarity and consistency in order to have a structure that can create more freedom and creativity.

Not sure if you are ready for EOS®, for a fractional or for a Full-Time Integrator? Please reach out to Jamie Munoz, Visionary at Catalyst Integrators® to talk it through and find the best path for you if you need support. jamiemunoz@catalystintegrators.com

PART III: CREATE A NEW STREAMLINED STRUCTURE IN YOUR LAW FIRM

As an attorney, you can't be expected to know the ins and outs of everything that goes into running a business. After all, you went to law school, not business school.

You may feel like you're saving money by tackling everything yourself, but the truth is, you're going to spend a lot more time for less-than-ideal outcomes.

There's also a ceiling when it comes to how far you can grow and develop alone. People need people. We grow together. At Back Office Betties, we guarantee we can catapult the success of your law firm.

But hey, don't take my word for it! Listen to what some of our clients have to say.

TESTIMONIALS:

Innovative and Client-focused

"I LOVE Back Office Betties! As a solo practitioner, my time is so, so valuable. I love that I never worry about whether my phone is answered. I also felt it was important that all of my clients speak to a live person when they call, which happens with Betties. The receptionists are exceptionally friendly, thorough, and professional. I also really love how innovative and client-focused the company is. I have used quite a few other answering services, and this is my favorite."

-Megan Porth, Your Contract Shop.

PART III: CREATE A NEW STREAMLINED STRUCTURE IN YOUR LAW FIRM

Their Services Have Been Invaluable

"The Betties are fantastic! We are a very small law firm, and their services have been invaluable. They are always professional and courteous, and our clients tell us that they have no idea the person is not in office until they come to the office for the first time. I cannot recommend them enough!"

-April DeLuca, Magic City Law.

Outstanding

"We have used Back Office Betties for several years now. Their service is outstanding! They take the important information we need to respond back to people who have called our law firm when we are unavailable. Their staff is extremely friendly and always a pleasure to speak to."

-Rachel Rosenblum, Loose Law Group.

They've Done Wonders for My Small Law Firm

I've really enjoyed working with Back Office Betties. They've done wonders in helping my small law firm, and I regularly receive compliments from my clients on their customer service."
